

3PE GOES "VINTAGE"

Because of this exasperated process, I have decided to take 3 Piece Events "vintage". Yep, I'm printing information I really want to keep, highlighting the useful tips and circling ideas. I keep all this in a folder to refer back to later. Archaic I know, but it helps me serve my customers better.

To keep it simple for you, our customers, I've created a new look for our E-News and other documents. This will help to identify all your 3PE information.

On our website, you'll find game plans, checklists, worksheets and other documents that will help you on your planning journey and all will be identified by the same new look.

I hope you enjoy the news, trends, ideas and tips that will be filling each NEWSFLASH in the weeks and months to come. Feel free to submit story ideas, requests and suggestions for improvement so that we continue to feed information that is relevant for you.

Until next time
Rebecca Zajac-Reid
Stylist & Planner, 3 Piece Events

The internet is a wonderful thing and I can't imagine how I lived without it. So much information, so many great sites and more than enough inspiration.

Looking at my bookmark tab, I realised that I am swamped with saved sites that I rarely refer back to. When I'm looking for something, I forget about my bookmarks and end up spending hours searching all over again.

SHOPPING SPREE

Finding the perfect gift is sometimes a tedious task; taking the fun out of shopping. Not anymore, thanks to the 3PE Online Shop.

As part of our ongoing commitment to our customers, I am now sourcing stunning fashion accessories, fabulous party ware and gorgeous event trimmings from around the globe. Many of the items we stock are unusual and unique, making our shop the perfect first stop for wedding essentials, party needs and that ultimate gift.

Want to try before you buy? If you are based near Adelaide, we can organise a showroom appointment so you can see first hand the product you want to buy.

EXPO GAME PLAN

Ever gone to an Expo and walked away feeling overwhelmed having been thrown into information overload? Next time, be Game Plan ready.

Not only have we attended Expo's, we've also displayed at them too. With this knowledge and experience, 3 Piece Events has developed a Game Plan specifically for the upcoming Winter Bridal Ideas Expo on 23 & 24 July 2011.

The Game Plan highlights 6 key steps to maximise your time and your experience and can be adapted to suit any kind of Expo.

So grab yourself a coffee, go to the Planning Tool Kit on our website and get ready for your next Expo experience.
